

Refinishing solutions for the industry's best collision repair businesses.

Each collision repair business is unique. The very best share this common goal: to consistently provide high-quality, dramatic results to their customers, all while saving time and improving profitability for the shop. Spies Hecker is committed to helping you achieve that goal by providing advanced, innovative refinishing technology solutions.

We also know the importance of being closer to our customers. We work hard at building long-standing, collaborative relationships, and we accomplish this in large part by listening.

Because we listen, we understand there is more than one route to the top, and more than one definition of "best." Whatever yours is, our mission is to help get you there with products and solutions designed to meet your unique needs and help enhance the profitability of your business.
